Shape Up Your Spending A Guide for College Students

How Do You Feel about Money?

If you received a $500 gift, what would you do with it? Put it in the bank? Buy clothes? Make a down payment on a car? Buy a VCR? Put it toward paying your college tuition?

How you spend your money depends on how you feel about money. To some people, money is power. To others, it means status and prestige. To others, it means security. Some people use money to get the things they want. Others just want to have enough to pay for day-to-day needs. What type of money spender are you? Do you fit into more than one category?

Money Spender Type 1. These spenders spend money only for what they need. They like to save for emergencies and have money in their pockets. These spenders shop around for the best deal.

Money Spender Type 2. People in this category like nothing but the best. They feel they must spend money to get ahead in life and that cheap stuff isn't worth much. Expensive clothes are important to this spending group.

Money Spender Type 3. This group of spenders feel they deserve the nice things in life and that nobody ever has enough. They feel people should buy the things they want NOW, so credit is necessary.

Money Spender Type 4. These spenders feel worrying about money never helps. They live by the philosophy people should not worry because the money will come from somewhere. This group thinks keeping track of spending can drive people crazy.

Money Spender Type 5. This group feels that money cannot buy happiness. They think they can have fun without spending money and that other things are more important than money.

Shape Up Tip #1

Try to understand how you feel about money. This helps you shape your spending to meet your needs.

What Are Your Spending Goals?

Some expenses, such as food, clothes, shelter, tuition, or organization dues, are necessary. But what do you wish you could spend your money on? These wishes are your spending goals.

It helps to write down these goals and decide which ones to work on first, second, and so on.

Shape Up 11p #2
Set spending goals. These can guide you to spend	ł money for the things that are most important to you.

Use Worksheet 1 to list your spending goals. In the first column, write down the things you would like to have or do soon, say within the next six months. In the second column, list the things you would like to do in three or four years.

Worksheet 1 - Spending Goals	[36 37 1 1]		3.6 37 1 1
Goals (Soon)	Money Needed	Goals (Later)	Money Needed

Where Does Your Money Go?

What do you spend your money on? Do you ever wonder where it all goes? Plan ahead and estimate your expenses, to be better prepared to handle expenses when they occur.

Some money is phantom money – it just seems to disappear from your wallet. Many times you spend phantom money on items such as snacks, magazines, and/or stamps. Over time, amounts spent on these items add up to a large amount of money. For example, 50 cents a day for a soda can add up to more than $125 a year!

Not that drinking a can of soda a day is bad, but you may decide to save that money for something else.

Shape Up Tip #3

Watch for phantom money spending. On Worksheet 2, keep track of all the money you spend each day for one or two weeks. Then ask yourself, "Do I really want to spend my money on these things?"

Worksheet 2 - Spending Record
Date	Item Purchased	Amount

How Will You Pay Annual Expenses?

Creating an annual spending calendar can help you remember when large expenses occur. You may be able to spread these out over the year if you plan ahead and save for them. Expenses paid regularly are easy to remember, but those not paid every month may cause trouble if you don't plan for them.

Shape Up Tip #4

Plan ahead for your expenses by using the spending calendar in Worksheet 3. Write in amounts for expenses you will have once or twice a year.

Item	Worksheet 3 - An	nual Sp	ending	Calenda	ır
Books Holidays Birthdays Clothing Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Item	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	Jun	Jul	Aug	Sept	Oct	Nov	Dec	Total
Holidays Birthdays School Supplies Clothing Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Tuition
Birthdays School Supplies Clothing Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other	Books
School Supplies Clothing Clothing Clothing Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Clothing Goal #2 Clothing Goal #3 Clother Other Clother Other Clothing Other Clothing	Holidays
Clothing Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Birthdays
Organizations Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	School Supplies
Subscriptions Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Clothing
Goal #1 Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Organizations
Goal #2 Goal #3 Other Other	Subscriptions
Goal #3 Other Other Other	Goal #1
Other Other Other Other	Goal #2
Other Other	Goal #3
Other Other	Other
	Other
Total	Other
	Total

Making Changes

You may find your income does not always meet all of your expenses. When this happens, you will need to look for ways to spend less. Here are some suggestions:

- Find the best buy Look several places two or three stores, newspapers, catalogs to find the best deal for your money. Spend time looking before you spend your money.
- Use wisely Take proper care of things you buy to make them last longer.
- Share it Stretch resources by sharing with others.
- Find it free Some items are free. Use university facilities instead of expensive health clubs for exercise. Borrow books, records, and videotapes from the library rather than buying.
- Watch phantom money Keep track of the money in your wallet. Cut back or cut out unnecessary spending on snacks, phone calls, movies, magazines, and record/book/ videotape clubs.

- Don't buy it Ask yourself if you really need this item or if there is something you want even more. Learn to say no to yourself, to salespeople, and to things you feel pressured into buying. Doing without one item now can help you get something else you want more later.
- Minimize credit purchases Buying on credit ties up future income. Before making a purchase on credit, make sure the credit payment will fit into your overall budget.

Do Your Income and Expenses Balance?

Now you are ready to match expenses with income. Just follow the steps below and use Worksheet 4 to set up your own spending plan and make sure that you are not spending more than you hake.

Step 1. On the top line, write down the income you expect to receive each week. This could be money from a part-time job, parents, scholarship, and/ or student loan.

Step 2. In the top half of the worksheet, list your fixed expenses. Fixed expenses are those you pay a specific amount of money for every week or month for a specified period of time. These include budget items such as tuition, rent, credit card payments, and car payments. Check your spending calendar to be sure you have included all of them. You may need to spread some expenses over two or more weeks.

Step 3. As you list a fixed expense, subtract it from the amount left from your income.

Step 4. List your flexible expenses in the bottom half of the worksheet. Flexible expenses vary from week to week and can be controlled and managed to some extent. Examples of flexible expenses include food, clothing, gasoline, telephone, and personal care. Again, check your spending calendar to be sure you have included all of your irregular annual expenses. You may need to spread some expenses over several weeks.

Step 5. As you list a flexible expense, subtract it from the amount you have left from your income.

Worksheet 4 - Spending Plan
Fixed Expenses	$	$	$	$	$
	Balance
	Balance
	Balance
	Balance
	Buturee
	Balance
Flexible Expenses	$	$	$	$	$
	Balance
	Balance
	Balance
	Datatice
	Balance
	Balance

Publication 1929 (POD-05-19)
Adapted by Becky Smith , PhD, Assistan Family Economics and Management Sp	nt Extension Professor, Agricultural Economics. Originally prepared by Beverly Howell, PhD, former Extension ecialist.
	Copyright 2019 by Mississippi State University. All rights reserved. This publication may be copied and distributed without alteration for nonprofit educational purposes provided that credit is given to the Mississippi State University Extension Service.
STATE	Produced by Agricultural Communications.
MISSISSIPPI STATE	Mississippi State University is an equal opportunity institution. Discrimination in university employment, programs, or activities based on race, color, ethnicity, sex, pregnancy, religion, national origin, disability, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, status as a U.S. veteran, or any other status protected by applicable law is prohibited. Questions about equal opportunity programs or compliance should be directed to the Office of Compliance and Integrity, 56 Morgan Avenue, P.O. 6044, Mississippi State, MS 39762, (662) 325-5839.

Extension Service of Mississippi State University, cooperating with U.S. Department of Agriculture. Published in furtherance of Acts of Congress, May 8 and June 30, 1914. GARY B. JACKSON, Director

UNIVERSITY

EXTENSION